

STATE CAPITAL LETTER

pointment of a negro on the clerical force of the United States Senate. This complaint does not come alone from party members here but is being voiced by other clerks in the Senate who are of that party.

Rumors are going the rounds that fire insurance companies who asked an increase of 10 per cent which meant the collection of an additional $1,900,000 taking an appeal to the supreme court of the United States. Attorney General McAllister and Superintendent A. L. Harty of the Insurance Department, say they will fight the increase to the bitter end. The Missouri Supreme Court held the increase could not be made.

On a resolution passed by the Senate and House guaranteeing that restoration of capital punishment would be considered and acted upon without consuming additional time of the extra session Governor Gardner sent a special message including this in the call. House members numbering 74 pledged themselves to remain for the restoration of the death penalty in the state. The Senate did likewise and there are to be legal executions in the state again for the following crimes: First degree murder, rape, train robbery, kidnapping, treason, and suborning testimony in capital cases.

Members of the suffrage organization and other women here passed strong resolutions endorsing Governor Gardner in his action calling for an extra session for the ratification of the suffrage amendment. Praise of the Governor for this is not confined to the women but is heard on all sides. In his address to the women Governor Gardner said in part:

"The world is at the feet of the women at the present time," he said, "if she will do three things—first, she must make herself beautiful in character, heart and soul. Second, she must be educated to converse and vote intelligently. Third, she must be a housekeeper and homemaker and a good mother to her children, the future citizens of the world. I called the special session because it was right and just and merited."

The only argument against woman's suffrage was, "no particular reason for it."

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Young, two children and Mr. Young's mother, Mrs. Lucy V. Young, left Saturday for a three weeks' stay in Colorado.

Adam the Bachelor.

Was Adam a vegetarian? A passage in the Talmud says he was, but in another place we read that he was created late on Friday, so that he might immediately sit down to a sumptuous Sabbath feast. There is a tradition preserved in the Talmud that Adam was a gay blade before Eve was formed from his rib; that winged Peris fed him of the daintiest victuals and filled his goblet with the choicest wines. Then Eve came along and spoiled it all. It is a pity that important questions like this one were not definitely settled long ago.—Phillip Hale in Boston Herald.

Killed by Politics.

When the people change the clocks on the 26th of next October, it will be a change made to stick. The bill was killed not because it did not deserve to live, but because there was too much politics back of it. When the voice of the farmer is heard reverberating throughout the land that if such and such a bill is not killed he will set to work killing Congressmen, then the people may prepare to see quick action at Washington. It was the howl of the farmer that took the daylight backbone out of Congress.—Charlotte Observer.

Just another evidence that the farmer should take more interest in politics. There never was any excuse for the law.

The World's Great Need.

What the whole world needs now is the fishing cure. There is no other balm so effectual for strained nerves and wearied souls. Fishing is said to encourage falsehood, but we believe that is a slander invented by would-be humorists who never fish except for stale jokes. On the contrary, it encourages nearly all the virtues. It's difficult to conceive of a true fisherman who is not a philosopher and a good citizen. Let's halt the world's business and go a-fishing. It is a sure cure for that tired, worried feeling.—Baltimore Sun.

40 YEARS ON THE JOB

I put 40 years in the study and practice of medicine and pharmacy before I was fortunate enough to secure and perfect the wonderful prescription for "Number 40 For The Blood" and at this late date in life I would not offer suffering humanity a medicine that I did not believe better than any offered by any doctor or druggist. I have observed the effect of "Number 40" in thousands of cases and can safely recommend it in all diseases of the blood such as specific blood poisoning, chronic rheumatism, catarrh, constipation, stomach and liver diseases, to cause sores and ulcers to heal and disperse nodes, tumors and scrofulous swellings. ## Four banks in Stoddard

County are financing an Endless Chain Pig Club. The banks started the club with a number of registered pigs weighing about fifty pounds. They were given to the club boys with the understanding that two of the best pigs of the first litter would be given to the bank. These pigs are given to other club boys under a similar agreement. This procedure will continue until the banks feel that the county is well stocked with purebred hogs.
